

Preschool is

Brain Food

Preschool Nutritional Facts¹

Serving Size: 1 child

Amount Per Serving

Value*

Literacy Rates

increase

↑

Math Test Scores

increase

↑

Science Test Scores

increase

↑

Graduation Rates

increase

↑

Dropout Rates

decrease

↓

Crime Rates

decrease

↓

* Values are based on the next New Mexico governor committing to investing in preschool.

Save the Children
Action Network™

PO Box 40686
Albuquerque, NM 87196-0686

BUG SCANNM1801

Paid for by Save the Children Action Network.

Save the Children Action Network is a 501(c)(4) organization.

Michelle Lujan Grisham Will Invest in High-Quality Early Childhood Education

A mom and grandmother, Michelle Lujan Grisham knows the vital role early education plays in creating a strong economy.

Facts are that children exposed to education in their first 4 years have higher literacy rates, higher math and science scores and lower instances of crime.

In New Mexico, the problems we face, from underperforming schools, high rates of poverty and some of the worst crime, can be fixed by giving every child access to early education.

Michelle Lujan Grisham is invested in education: she'll fix the teacher shortage, support and retain effective teachers and improve early childhood education, by making universal access to high-quality Pre-K a reality for every New Mexico family.²

Vote Michelle Lujan Grisham for Governor

Early Voting Starts October 20

Save the Children Action Network supports efforts to invest in children from the start. By investing in early childhood education, we ensure a strong start for our children and a better future for us all.

Check the Facts:

1. Forbes, 4/1/15
2. Candidate website, newmexicansformichelle.com